World Gasket Ellegi: The real ones, the only ones

We are in the northern Italy, just a few kilometres from the magnificent Bergamo. Here, the research and development of articles made with elastomers and thermoplastic materials find their real essence, giving life to projects of great international scope.

In what we today call Rubber Valley, more than forty years ago a company was born that is now the cutting edge in the sector of industrial gaskets: WG Ellegi. It was 1977 when Franco and Mario Polini founded the company thanks to their strong entrepreneurial intuition and the sense of initiative that unites them from a young age. Over the years, the company enters into new markets: the Middle East, America and Africa. Today, Luca and Ugo Polini, the second generation at the helm, continue to expand their offer with the aim of providing customers around the world the high performing gaskets, both for the first-time use and the spare parts.

OEM and Aftermarket: two links of the same chain

World Gasket Ellegi is a single large brand that includes two Business Units.

The OEM Business Unit is the area responsible for the production of technical items and industrial gaskets, and the Aftermarket Business Unit is the area dedicated to the supply of spare parts for earth-moving machines.

These BU are nothing more than two links in the same chain that complement and reinforce each other with the aim of bringing a high level of quality and an extremely accurate service.

A strategic vision with precise objectives

The exceptional expertise of WG Ellegi coincides with the strong sense of belonging of the people who make up this large family. Day by day, with their professionalism, they contribute to the company's success thanks to a know-how of the highest level and the need to constantly aim for innovation to achieve the best R&D standards.

The values of union, cooperation and dedication to the customer are fundamental; they have driven the two young entrepreneurs to invest ambitiously in the future of their reality. "Acting actively and strategically is the only way to grow and expand your borders in an increasingly competitive market" says CEO Luca Polini.

Targeted and ambitious investments

Always looking towards the future, WG Ellegi makes targeted investments to supply the best tools and thus bring an important business growth.

An example of this is the increase of the warehouse space that has now reached 20,000 square metres. A fundamental asset to guarantee a timely supply of the product range and a space that definitely represents the evolution carried out with total dedication.

Furthermore, the need to act preventively at a strategic level, accelerating and improving decision-making, has led the company to integrate the use of Artificial Intelligence into its processes. "Looking beyond is the best way to make decisions that bring competitive advantages" concludes Ugo Polini, COO of WG Ellegi.

It is thanks to companies like this that Italy is able to position itself among the major industrial powers and to give value to the entrepreneurial vision that unites all the country's excellences. The future is full of opportunities, you just need to know how to seize them. ●
